ACADEMICS

Ooh Bill, you devil!

A ten-page progress report?

... and a little of this and a little of that ...

Why are we here? (A question often pondered during those times when we should be working on an assignment . . . or two . . .)

Well, let's see. We are here to struggle, to study like crazy . . . and get results.

We are here to ask lots of questions . . . and get answers.

We draw conclusions with the help of a small but devoted faculty. We participate in a wide variety of challenging extra-curricular sports and activities—from DECA to debate. Most of all, we are here to exercise our individuality and form our own opinions. Finally, it's senior year and things are beginning to make sense.

Ivy League . . . of course!

Now don't you dare touch that jack!

Wait, 'Scoe . . . it's starting to hit me. Sleepwriting.

Connected at the shoulder?

Ladies' man.

Don't mess with my Chitty-chitty Cordoba.

Eight months 'til graduation . . .

FRIENDSHIP

What would you think if I sang out of tune?

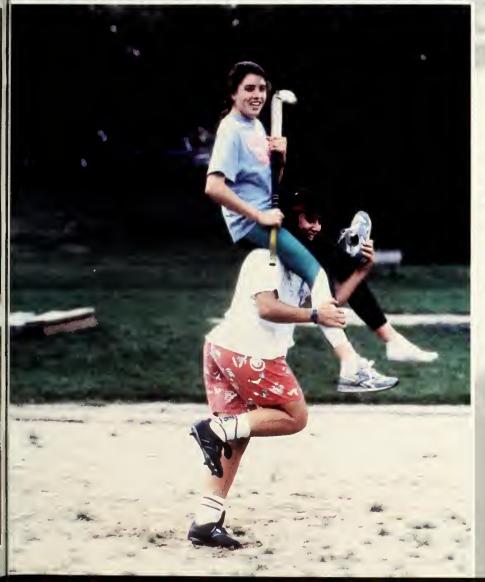

Would you stand up and walk out on me?

Lend me your ears and I'll sing you a song

And I'll try not to sing out of key. I get by with a little help from my friends.

- The Beatles

Amy²... or is that Cybil to the first power?

I think we'd rather be at football practice.

Oh Leslie, watch out for the banana peel!

Hey Doug, she's mine.

Martha- what's the answer to #6?

ATHLETICS

At MHS, sports are more than just a way to pass the afternoon. It is not easy to set aside time for grueling practice, where one learns difficult plays, and polishes skills. Manchester pride is clearly shown in the overwhelming participation of players and in the turnout of loyal fans. Regardless of the sport, dedication and hard work pay off for all of the Hornet teams.

D'ya know what this paint looks like?

Five days 'til Italy.

AROUND TOWN

Oh, so this is how you measure IQ's.

The BMW? I'm allergic to schoolwork.

Legendary laughs.

Hey Dee- how about a ride in my truck? Or should we take the Cordoba?

Did someone say Laser?

Before and after school, students can be found on the job or just out and about. Memories of Manchester include much more than those hours spent in school. Popular sites for informal gatherings include the library wall, the parking lot at Brown's or Richdale's, spinning the beach, eating at Beach St, Peggy's, Coffee Cup, or catching a train to Boston on a rainy Saturday

TIME OUT

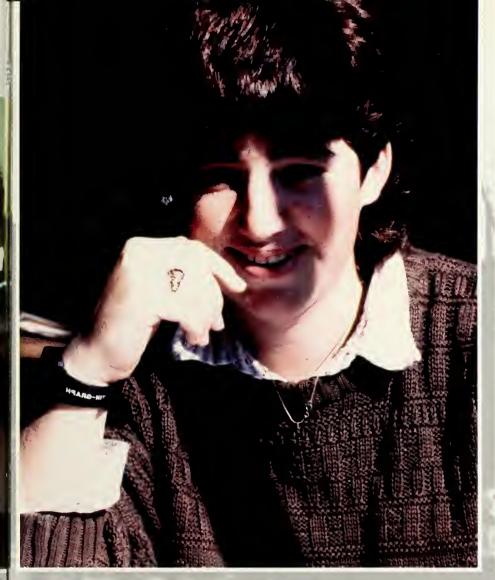

Watch your hands, Cybil.

Raise your hand if you're sure.

Operator? Can I charge a long-distance call?

What's so funny about military school?

Say what?

Yeah, this must be that cute freshman's locker.

Take a deep breath, the big test is over . . . Stretch out on the senior benches, spend some time roaming the halls, or dare to cross the "black line of death." Risk catching a few Z's during class or sneaking out to the smoking area. It's easy to blow off math homework to fool around in study hall. Go grab a cup of coffee— it's a senior priviledge. The time spent not working is an important part of high school, too!

THE CLASS OF 1988 GETTING IT TOGETHER

The senior field trip to Wingaersheek Beach was our first big indication that this year is special. The Project Adventure dory row, organized by Mrs. Mentus, was a success despite the boat shortage. On the beach, committees were formed to tackle upcoming fundraisers and events. A positive feeling grew out of the day.

Senior enthusiasm continued to grow during Spirit Week. Phenominal participation made the Class of 88 stand apart from the rest. The halls were decked with streamers, posters, and construction-paper mortar boards. Friday's pep rally began with the class marching in to "Pomp and Circumstance", followed by three-hundred balloons dropping onto the crowd and the presentation of our class rap.

The senior class is finally pulling together. No, things are not perfect, but are they ever? We can overcome our problems. We can not let them stand in our way. This is our year to excel and to leave good memories behind us.

But do they look like rappers?

Alright, who kicked that sand?

We are pulling, really.

Beachbumming Spirit of '88

We're so cute.

Oh no . . . Don't you dare . . .

Ah, Kiddies!

The Thinker.

KRISTEN MONICA ATWOOD

Did you tackle that trouble that came your way

With a resolute heart and cheerful; Or hide your face from the light of day With a craven soul and fearful?

Oh, a trouble's a ton or a trouble's an ounce, Or a trouble is what you make it-And it isn't the fact that you're hurt that

But only how did you take it?

You are beaten to earth? Well, well, what's that?

Come up with a smiling face. It's nothing against you to fall down flat; But to lie there- that's disgrace.

The harder you're thrown, why the higher you'll bounce;

Be proud of your blackened eye; It isn't the fact that you're licked that counts, It's how did you fight, and why?

And tho you be done to death, what then? If you battled the best you could.

If you played your part in the world of men, Why the Critic will call it good.

Death comes with a crawl, or comes with a bounce;

And whether he's slow or spry,

It isn't the fact that you're dead that counts, But only, how did you die?

When all the world was very young/And mountain magic heavy hung/The supermen would walk in file/Guardians of a loveless isle/And gloomy browed with superfear their tragic endless lives/Could heave nor sigh/In solemn, peverse serenity, wonderous beings chained to life. Strange games they would play then/No death for the perfect men/Life rolls into one for them/So softly a super god cries Where all the minds in uni-thought/Power weird by mystics taught/No pain, no joy, no power too great/Colossal strength to grasp a fate/Where sad-eyed mermen tossed in slumber/Nightmare dreams no mortal mind could hold/Man would tear his brothers' flesh, a chance to die, to turn to mold Far out in the red-sky/Far out from the sad eyes/Strange mad celebration/So softly a super god dies-David Bowie, 1970

ART SHOW 1987

Mrs. T.'s Last Spring Show

The spring art show marked the last of a long series of successful shows organized and run by Yvonne Trabucco. She retired at the end of the 1986-87 school year after teaching art at Manchester for twenty-two years. We will miss you, Mrs. T.! We welcome Dian Martin to the MHS faculty as our new art teacher.

Show winners were as follows: Painting- Debbie Martel, Drawing-Chris Camerato, Ceramics- Hannah Osborne, and Sculpture- Lara Diephuis. Additionally, Mil Lawler received honorable mentions for his two blue-ribbon pieces which were on display in Boston for the Boston Globe Scholastic Art Awards.

"MHS Thespians chose to enter 'Classic Cut-Ups,' (the series of ridiculous abridgements of classic plays such as Oedipus Rex and Macbeth, which the troupe performed last spring) in the 1988 Massachusetts Drama Festival. The troupe also enjoyed the Brandeis University student matinee series for 1987-1988. Plans for the final show of the season at MHS call for a revival of The Glass Menagerie." -John Stuart

DEBATE

"1987 and 1988 have seen the greatest successes in Manchester Debate Team history. In June, 1987, after winning the National Tournament of Champions in Lexington, Kentucky, Sarah Gannett and Zach Leber went undefeated in fifteen rounds of debate to win the National Forensic League Championship in Cincinnati, Ohio. Zach and Sarah became the first team in the history of the NFL's triple elimination tournament to win the tournament without a single loss. In finals, they beat the ST. Mark's School of Dallas, Texas, on an 8-1 decision of the judges. Throughout the 1986-1987 season Manchester's second team of Kirsten Bolten and Andrea Marston were consistent in winning trophies and qualifying for elimination debates.

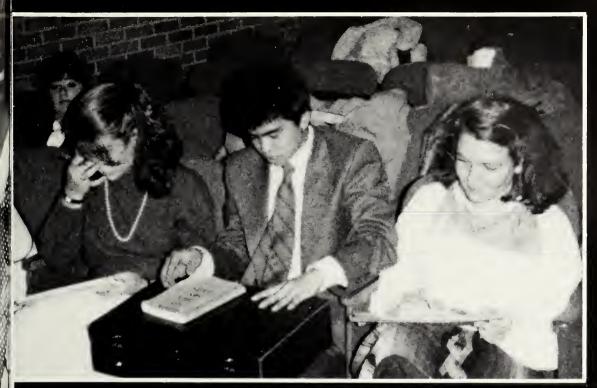

In Lincoln- Douglas Debate Manchester enjoyed Gretchen Crosby's quarterfinal showing at the National Tournament of Champions 1987. Two other debators competed at TOC: Craig Chew and Amy Spence. In 1988 Gretchen Crosby once again achieved national recognition by winning the National Round-Robin Debates at Montgomery Bell Academy in Nashville, Tennessee. Manchester also competed in New York City, Atlanta, Georgia, and at TOC 1988 in Kentucky. The team continues to grow, with excellent novices showing great promise for the future." -Tim Averill

DECA

Manchester DECA had a very successful year in 1987. Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) is a national marketing business club. Students select a category and participate in written exams and oral "role-play" exams-situations of real life business problems.

Three students, Kim Peterson, Jenn Nicol, and Brendon Carroll, placed among the top three in their category at the state conference held at Sea Crest, Falmouth. Their top performances earned the three a trip to the national finals in New Orleans.

Congratulations are well-deserved by DECA Advisors Mrs. Nancy Borsetti and Mrs. Kathleen Benoit. The two helped students through their events. See you in Salt Lake City, Utah "88"!

Success

The field hockey team had another successful season this year as they placed second in Division II and qualified for the State Field Hockey Tournament. There were nine seniors on the team. Leslie Fatalo and Laura Dwyer were elected to the All-Star Team of the Cape Ann League and the Salem News. Both also received Best Defensive Player Award for the team. Gretchen Crosby was elected to the All-Star Team of Cape Ann. She also received the Best Offensive Player Award along with Katina Brown. Jeanne Snow received the Most Valuable Player Award; Aileen Kershaw received the Coaches Award.

CROSS COUNTRY FINISH STRONG

The girls had ten meets and our record was two wins- eight losses. Individuals were able to increase their performance level as the season progressed, and times dropped significantly. Amanda Smith had an outstanding year with five first place finishes and a ninth place finish in the Cape Ann League meet. The team finished eighth in the Cape Ann League for the Season. Although we will miss Amanda and Heather next year we look for the underclasswomen to continue to improve.

The boys had one of the best seasons that Manchester Cross Country team has had in ten years. The team started off at a slow pace but as the season progressed picked it up and finished it in flying colors with three wins and a fine showing in the Cape Ann League Open. During the regular season, under the coaching of Dominic Priolo, the team won five and lost seven in the strong Cape Ann League which put the Hornets in a tie for the sixth spot in the standings.

Coach Priolo was elated when Aaron Canale was the only senior among a group of young men. The team closed out the season in grand style and in the Open surprised all with their fifth place finish.

This day belonged to Aaron who ran a very strong race and finished in 15th spot which is very good as he was competing against over a hundred runners. This time it was his to remember and that he will

Remarkable

"The 1987 Girls Tennis Team had a remarkable season. After losing the first two matches, this team went on a tear and won eleven in a row. Only Westwood was able to stop this amazing streak, in the second round of the states. (By the way, seven of the eleven wins were 5-0!)"—Coach Rose Bottger

The 1986 season was also impressive. The girls team compiled a record of twelve and two, advancing to the state tournament.

To The Class of 1988

I have always been puzzled by your concern that your class is not "together." From my perspective, you have demonstrated a remarkable ability to organize and work cooperatively. If the concern were not so wide-spread, I would say it lacked validity.

My final analysis is that you are much more "together" than you give yourselves credit for. Your individualism is a strength, not a weakness. Your greatest strength, however, is not your individualism, but your genuine desire to go further. The high expectations you set for your senior class community might even be called idealistic. You might not like that label, but I think it is true. And, I must say, that I am pleased that you will carry this desire for harmony and synergy into the world beyond Manchester High School. We can certainly use your high aspirations.

DEDICATION

The class of 1988 has a history of being a class of individuals. When Mrs. Tammy Mentus took on the job of class advisor she assumed a task of immense proportions. It has not been easy, but hard work and determination have paid off with the success of our magazine drive, car wash, and carnation sale. Most notably, Mrs. Mentus organized the Wingaersheek Beach Day field trip which initiated a cohesive senior spirit throughout the class.

We thank you for your endless patience and support as we have grown and matured over these past four years. The 1988 Anchor is dedicated to Mrs. Tammy Mentus.
